

Jeremy Daubner

Jeremy Daubner has volunteered at the Dublin Irish Festival for the past four years in the hospitality department and volunteer headquarters, receiving the Best of the Fest Youth Volunteer Award in his first year. As a member of the Richens Timm Academy of Irish Dance, Jeremy has danced in multiple performances at the festival over the past six years. Jeremy's other areas of service include volunteering at the Dublin branch of the Columbus Metropolitan Library for seven years, numerous City of Dublin events such as the July Fourth Celebration and being a Park Ambassador. Jeremy is a three time recipient of a Dublin Community Champion Award, once with special recognition. He is also member of the National Honor Society and the International Thespian Society, where he has received the rank of National Honor Thespian. Jeremy graduated in May from Dublin Jerome High School with honors, where he actively participated in the Drama Club and was a three year member of his class cabinet being elected a CoLeader his senior year. In the fall Jeremy will be attending Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University to major in Aeronautical Science.
