

Sean Yu

Sean Yu has volunteered at the Irish Festival for the past three years in hospitality, prepping food for Festival entertainers and performers. Aside from the festival, he also volunteers at the mid-Ohio food bank. He has also given his time beautifying the City of Dublin in park projects, helping with summer camps and for other special events produced by the City. This year, he is graduating from Dublin Jerome High School and will attend Cornell University in the fall majoring in electrical and computer engineering. In his free time, Sean also enjoys inline skating, running, and biking with friends.
